PAPERS

Apprehending spelling patterns for vowels: a developmental study. Carol A. Fowler, Donald Shankweiler and Isabelle Y. Liberman	243
Aspects of agrammatism in aphasia. E.S. Beyn, T.G. Vizel' and F.M. Hatfield	327
Contextual probability and word frequency as determinants of pauses and errors in spontaneous speech. Geoffrey W. Beattie and B.L. Butterworth	201
Contour systems of one variety of Scottish English. Karen L. Currie	1
Direction of consonant substitution in preschool children. Kong-On Kim and Robert E. Rudegeair	371
Distinctive feature use in speech perception of children. James M. Stewart, Sadanand Singh and Mary Ellen Hayden	69
Effect of phonetic complexity of speaker height and weight identification. Norman J. Lass, A. DiCola, Amy S. Beverly, Cheriann Barbera, Kenneth G. Henry and Mary K. Badali	297
Effect of temporal speech alterations on speaker height and weight identification. Norman J. Lass, Pamela J. Barry, Robin A. Reed, Jayne M. Walsh and Teresa A. Amuso	163
Effect of word length and frequency on articulation and pausing during delayed auditory feedback. G. Geffen, I. Stierman and P. Tildesley	191
Effects of exposure to a language on subsequent learning. Richard A. Lyczak	81

Index to Volume 22

Establishing intonationally variable systems in a multidimensional linguistic space. John Pellowe and Val Jones	97
Functional completeness as a determinant of processing load during sentence comprehension. John M. Carroll	347
Hesitation phenomena as sources of perceptual errors for non-native speakers. Bernd Voss	129
Individual differences in second-language ability: a factor-analytic study. Catherine E. Snow and Marian Hoefnagel-Höhle	151
Information structure in sentences: new information. Robert B. Most and Eli Saltz	89
Noun and noun phrase stress: a phonetic study of English supplemented with an error analysis using Finnish speaker-hearers. I. Production. Jussi Niemi	221
Noun and noun phrase stress: a phonetic study of English supplemented with an error analysis using Finnish speaker-hearers. II. Perception. Jussi Niemi	319
Observations on elicited language imitation with the severely retarded. Frances Lamberts and Martha Burns	21
On the role of semantic constraints in sentence comprehension. Susan Kemper and Jack Catlin	253
Periodic rhythms in conversational speech. Rebecca M. Warner	381
Phonological learning by children and adults in a laboratory setting. R. McCrae Cochran and Jacqueline Sachs	145
Production of labial occlusives in young hearing-impaired children. Randall B. Monsen	311
Relative amplitude of aspiration noise as a voicing cue for syllable-initial stop consonants. Bruno H. Repp	173
Rhetorical pauses in oral reading. Edward J. Clemmer, Daniel C. O'Connell and Wayne Loui	397
Semantic aspects of psycholinguistic research in simultaneous interpretation. Ghelly V. Chernov	277
Sex differences in children's conversation. Anita Esposito	213
Social class, sex and linguistic coding. Millicent E. Poole	49
Speaker intelligibility of black and white school children for black and white adult listeners under varying listening conditions. E. Harris Nober and Harry N. Seymour	237
Talkativeness and children's linguistic abilities. Sarah J. Landon and Ronald K. Sommers	269
Tongue position in rounded and unrounded front vowel pairs. Lawrence J. Raphael, Fredericka Bell-Berti, René Collier and Thomas Baer	37
Written language maturity and formal reasoning in male and female adolescents. Anton E. Lawson and Gene D. Shepherd	117
